U.S. Deficit Rate Heads For Record

Volcker Reveals Month Figures
By Philip Shabecoff
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UPI)—Paul A. Volcker, Under Secretary of the Treasury, disclosed today for the first time yesterday that the basic balance-of-payments deficit reached $9 billion, if figured at an annual rate, the first half of 1971.

Deficit Range
In the years 1960-1969 the basic balance-of-payments deficit ranged from a low of $700 million to a high of $3.8 billion. Last year the deficit was $3 billion.

Not Permanent
Despite questions by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D., Conn., chairman of the subcommittee, Mr. Volcker would say only that the surcharge is not looked upon by the administration as a permanent measure and that it could be removed as soon as possible.

Joint Approach
Japan, Britain, Canada and Sweden are expected to take a similar approach—in effect making a dollar devaluation and elimination of the bitterly criticized surcharge a condition for the upward adjustment of major foreign currencies that President Nixon is seeking.

[Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber said tonight that Britain and the Common Market are thinking along the same lines in their approach to the monetary crisis.]

First Attempt, at Least
This is the story—at least a first attempt to tell it—of a desperate effort to achieve some order, and of the more than 20 men who fell in that effort. (There was never a pre-arranged roster of members of the so-called observers committee.)

ATTICA, N.Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Nine hostages killed at Attica State Prison during the four-day uprising died of gunshot wounds, a medical examiner and hospital authorities said today.

Prison authorities said yesterday, after officers stormed the prison cell block where inmates held 38 guards captive, that several of the slain guards had slashed throats.

Only Gas Guns
According to all official reports yesterday, the only guns the prisoners carried were gas projectile guns. Most of the prisoners were armed with clubs, firebombs and makeshift knives, officials said.

The Torment of Attica

Observer Reports on Failure Of Talks With the Convicts

(Continued from Page 1) others came from interested groups, still others were appealed to by associates or friends already on the committee.

On Sunday, as the situation grew more tense and Correction Commissioner Russell G. Oswald grew more concerned for the committee's safety, a subcommittee of six men conferred with a prisoner leader, Richard A. Clarke, known to the committee as "Brother Richard" with a steel-barred gate between them.

The prisoners sought this "conference," witnessed by no more than 1,000 holdouts, to allow the press to interview some of the hostages, ascertain their safety and film their television appeals to the public.

The observers committee had the additional purpose of "gaining time" which, by then, with substantive negotiations at an impasse, most members felt was the only thing left to do.

While the group was inside cell block D, an appeal by Gov. Rockefeller to come to Attica, to consult with the negotiators, was being broadcast. The appeal, the prisoners' leaders had approved it and it had been telegraphed to a radio station from the Steward's Room.

The last session lasted from 3:45 p.m. to 5:17 p.m. with several members of the group addressing the prisoners in emotional terms, with three of the hostages being interviewed with a television camera and two sound tapes.

The five hostages—Capt. Frank Wald, Sgt. Edward Cunningham, and three correction officers, Frank Struble, Art Smith and Mike Smith—appealed to Gov. Rockefeller to come to Attica, for a "complete amnesty" for the prisoners and for the authorities to do nothing that would provoke an outbreak by 200 at Baltimore Jail Quickly Put Down

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14 (Reuters).—A riot here by about 200 prisoners at Baltimore city jail today was effectively subdued with tear gas. Police said they believed the riot was sparked by yesterday's bloodbath at New York's Attica State Prison.

The rioters took over the jail's dining area at breakfast time, barricading themselves in and smashing windows, chairs and crockery.

Police officials called in police reinforcements and tear gas was used to force the prisoners from the dining room. There were brief scuffles, but no reports of injuries, before they were marched back to their cells in groups of 10.

Officials said the prisoners tried unsuccessfully to take hostages. They said the disturbance was "spontaneous" in reaction to the Attica battle. Tension at the prison had been noticeably higher since the Attica rebellion started last week, a police spokesman said.

Weapons Found In Detroit Jail

DETROIT, Sept. 14 (UPI).—Armed inmates of a possible revolt, sheriff's deputies conducted a cell-by-cell search of the Wayne County Jail yesterday, allegedly confiscating more than 150 small weapons.

Sheriff William Duce said he had received a warning that several inmates would attempt to take hostages, including ministers, social workers, nurses and other visitors—in an uprising similar to that at Attica State Prison in New York.

Four deputies reportedly suffered minor injuries when a group of 25 prisoners balked at returning to their cells. No jail officials were injured, jail officials said. A search turned up a loaded .22-caliber Remington and other weapons, such as razor blades and knives.

U.S. Exempts Latin America From Aid Cut Bars 'Sex Questions' Judge Rules Against Pentagon On Homosexual Security Risk

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (WP).—Latin American countries have been told that they are exempt from the 10 percent cut in foreign aid announced last month by President Nixon.

The announcement was made in Panama by Under Secretary of State Nathaniel Samuelson yesterday. The new 10 percent surtax on imports was not affected. Latin American countries had asked to be exempted from both the additional import tax and the aid cut. At the same time, during a meeting last week in Buenos Aires, these countries sought quick action on preferential tariffs.

Maurice J. Williams, deputy administrator of the Agency for International Development, said the decision to exempt Latin America from the aid cut grew out of the "special relationship" the United States has with that region.

Mr. Samuelson described the surcharge as a "tourniquet applied to balance-of-payments hemorrhage, a tourniquet which is intended to slow down the bleeding without cutting off the blood flow." It was not directed against any country, he said, and carried responsibility for releasing the secret Pentagon Papers on Vietnam policymaking to the press, addressed an overflow crowd of more than 700 persons at the New School for Social Research.

The papers show, he said, that "there's no American who hasn't been lied to including President Nixon." The President's head, he said, was "filled with lies from the Kennedy and Johnson regimes and his own subordinates today."

Says Shooting Not Ordered Ex-GI Testifies He Killed Child Charged to Medina

FORT MOYERSON, Ga., Sept. 14 (AP).—Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey says the testimony of a former rifleman at My Lai should assure Capt. Ernest Medina of acquittal of one murder charge.

In dramatic testimony yesterday, Gen. Ralph Oliver Jr., of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said he shot and killed a boy near My Lai on March 16, 1968, and that his commander, Capt. Medina, did not order the shooting.

"I saw a movement—a human form—and raised my weapon and fired," Mr. Oliver said. He testified that the child fell near a pile of bodies.

He realized "immediately thereafter," he said, that his victim was a child, when another soldier yelled, "It's only a kid." Then Mr. Oliver said he heard Capt. Medina yell, "Goddamn, cease fire."

Capt. Medina, 35, of Montrose, Colo., is charged with premeditated murder in the death of the boy. The Army contends he ordered the child shot.

Murder Charges The infantry captain also is charged with the premeditated murder of 100 other Vietnamese civilians in that he failed to control his troops during the assault on the South Vietnamese hamlet.

In addition, he is charged with shooting a Vietnamese woman in the back.

Three Saigon Papers Confiscated by Police SAIGON, Sept. 14 (Reuters).—Police today confiscated three Saigon newspapers for violations of the press code, the South Vietnamese Information Ministry announced.

As in previous confiscations, the newspapers are expected to be accused of carrying reports likely to "cause confusion among the masses and harm national security," or of offending public morals.

Union Leader Fighting Back France Fires Five Leaders Of Rebellious Police Forces

By James Goldsborough PARIS, Sept. 14 (UPI).—The government today fired the leaders of rebellious provincial police forces, and was immediately given an ultimatum by the national police federation to rescind the order or else.

In firing five policemen who had been leading a provincial movement for higher pay and better working conditions, the government was applying its tough law-and-order policy to the men who are responsible for enforcing it. It was a calculated risk and by tonight the main police unions were defying it.

Following a meeting with Interior Ministry officials tonight, Gerard Monate, who heads the federation grouping most of the police unions, called the firings "very, very serious," and said that no negotiations would be possible with the government until they are rescinded.

Mr. Monate, who quite pointedly remarked that he had not been received by Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin, said that through the firing Mr. Marcellin had attempted to "decapitate" the leadership of the provincial police. Mr. Monate called Mr. Marcellin's action "illegal."

There are about 25,000 provincial police out of a national force of some 95,000. Mr. Monate's federation speaks for about two-thirds of all of them.

The abrupt dismissal of the five provincial policemen, who had angered Mr. Marcellin last week by threatening to occupy government buildings if their demands were not met, was hardly a gesture designed to comfort the policemen, who, the newspaper said, are fed up with public "contempt" for them.

Another element was added this evening when the text of a letter from Prime Minister Jacques Chaban-Delmas to Mr. Monate was released. In the letter Mr. Chaban-Delmas states that the government has taken several measures to improve police benefits and pay, and calls for the contacts to continue.

The prime minister's comments in passing that the provincial police is "inadmissible," but does not mention any sanctions against the police.

Rockefeller Fund Names New Head

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP).—Dr. John H. Knowles, whose nomination to the nation's top health post in 1968 was dropped after opposition by the American Medical Association, has been named president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

The foundation announced yesterday that Dr. Knowles would leave his post as general director of the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston after nine years to succeed Dr. J. George Harrar next July.

The Rockefeller Foundation, the nation's second wealthiest with $800 million in assets, devotes its resources to the worldwide education, research, disease, population control and university and cultural development. Dr. Knowles has said that social and economic problems are inseparable from medical problems and that private medicine was doing too little for the aged and the poor.

U.S. Seen Deciding Against Keeping Troops in Vietnam

SAIGON, Sept. 14 (AP).—A shift apparently has taken place in the Nixon administration's plans to keep a residual force of some 20,000 to 50,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Sources said statements attributed to Gen. Creighton W. Abrams that he does not envision a residual force of U.S. troops in Vietnam indicates that the Nixon administration is changing its concept to a strictly advisory role—and possibly in a fairly short period of time.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D., S.D., quoted the American commander as saying, "Our goal is a total termination of U.S. military operations and the development of a balanced South Vietnamese force capable of functioning without U.S. forces, either aerial or ground."

Gen. Abrams did not say, however, when this would be achieved. Indefinite Period It had been generally accepted that the United States intended to leave a residual force of 20,000 to 50,000 American troops in Vietnam for an indefinite period, most of them in advisory and logistical support roles.

Gen. Abrams' comment, as reported by Sen. McGovern, was the nearest thing to a public statement by the U.S. commander in Vietnam on the subject to date. Later Sen. McGovern added that Gen. Abrams told him a non-

San Francisco Busing Starts Peacefully Amid Big Boycott

By Leroy F. Auston

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14 (UPI)—School busing began peacefully and without incident in San Francisco yesterday, but first-day attendance figures in the city's 97 elementary schools were far below normal.

School officials reported early figures showed that attendance in one of the city's largest elementary schools, the absence of the absenteeism office, resulted from an estimated citywide boycott of the busing program that provides for the transport of more than half the city's 97,000 elementary school children.

An expected opposition was mounted in San Francisco's Chinatown, which residents almost unanimously reject the busing concept. At a Chinatown elementary school that was a major leader in the boycott, fewer than 20 children showed up to be transported. Others were supposed to have picked up 700 students, but observers at the scene saw no more than 10 to 20 children aboard.

William Spinks, vice-president of the Associated Charter Bus Co., whose 130 vehicles carried the children, said that conditions along all bus routes had been "remarkably calm."

Boycotting of buses was accompanied by protest boycotting of neighborhood schools, both in Chinese and white sections of the city.

While attendance was abnormal (first-day turnout is customarily 80 percent), school officials were far from willing to concede that the busing experiment was failing. They pointed out that predictions of widespread picketing, school disobedience and possible violence all had proved to be wrong.

They theorized that the boycott would grind in a week or two, once parents saw that busing was safe and that education was not deteriorating.

Choreographer Harald Lander Is Dead at 66

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 14 (UPI)—Choreographer and ballet master Harald Lander, 66, who was famed from the Royal Danish Theatre in Copenhagen, died today in a Copenhagen hospital.

Four years after his best known work, "Ballet" (the music was composed by his close friend Knud Rasmussen), had been staged at the Royal Theatre in 1948, Mr. Lander's contract was terminated and he left for Paris.

The round little, maître de ballet affectionately called "the chore" by his pupils, was charged with negotiating certain young dancers in the theater in preference to his wife, solo ballerina Margit Lander.

2 Germanys Still Deadlocked on Accord

By David Binder

BONN, Sept. 14 (NYT)—East and West Germany remained deadlocked this evening in their dispute over varying interpretations of the four-power Berlin agreement, following a brief meeting of State Secretaries Michael Kohl and Egon Bahr.

After emerging from the 2-hour session in the federal chancellery, Mr. Bahr said "nothing has changed," but added that he and Mr. Kohl had agreed to meet in East Berlin on Sept. 22.

Mr. Bahr also stressed that both sides were determined to "overcome this situation."

Western diplomats blame Mr. Bahr and his colleagues from the West German Foreign Office, Gunter Van Wel, in large part for the dispute that has arisen over the German translation of the Big Four agreement.

It was Mr. Bahr's idea to draft a uniform German text drawn from the English and Russian versions of the accord as a means of avoiding German-level disputes. The translation effort by officials from Bonn and East Berlin delayed the ambassadorial signing ceremony by 24 hours.

While a uniform text was indeed drafted, the East German side renounced it less than two hours after the 1 p.m. signing on Sept. 3. They argued afterward that the German text was not binding anyway.

U.S. Ambassador Kenneth Rush said in disgust later that if he had known such a dispute could have developed, he would not have signed the four-power accord.

Asked today how he felt about Mr. Rush's comment, Mr. Bahr said, "Rush is right."

Evidently the West German government now hopes to gain support for its position on the German text interpretation and its negotiating stance from the Russians as a result of Chancellor Willy Brandt's meeting with the Soviet party chief, Leonid Brezhnev, at the Crimean resort of Oreanda on Friday.

To this end the chancellor has agreed to keep a veil of secrecy around the meeting. His chief adviser, Mr. Bahr, who is accompanying him to the Crimea,

Congress Delays A-Test Unless Nixon Orders It

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed today to a bill provision that would postpone a scheduled five-megaton nuclear warhead underground explosion in Alaska unless President Nixon gave his direct approval.

In approving a compromise public works appropriation bill, the conferees accepted a Senate provision to forbid the explosion before May 31, 1972, unless the President gives his direct approval.

The Atomic Energy Commission has scheduled the experiment in the Aleutian Islands of Alaska for some time next month. The experiment is designed to test the warhead of the Spartan missile, a part of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system.

A White House spokesman said there would be no immediate comment on the conferees' action.

Rainstorm in Naples Causes Flash Floods

NAPLES, Sept. 14 (AP)—Rainstorms lashed Naples for an hour today, flooding low-lying areas and halting traffic. More than a dozen cars were partially submerged.

Flood waters, which were almost a meter deep, caused slight damage to some buildings. Strong winds accompanying the rain ripped off plaster from older buildings. Police freed motorists trapped in submerged cars.

U.S., Russia to Sign Nuclear Accident Pact

By Tad Szulc

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (NYT)—Secretary of State William F. Rogers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko are to sign later this month—probably on Sept. 30—parallel agreements for the joint handling of nuclear accidents.

The accords were negotiated at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks in Helsinki.

Officials here said that no decision has yet been made whether the signing ceremony—representing the first concrete achievement of the arms talks initiated in November, 1969—will be held in New York or Washington.

Both Mr. Rogers and Mr. Gromyko are to attend the session of the UN General Assembly opening in New York next Tuesday. But American officials said that the agreements would be signed away from the United Nations because they are bilateral accords between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Mr. Gromyko is due in New York on Saturday while Mr. Rogers plans to arrive on Sept. 23, the two officials may travel to Washington, however, for the formal signing.

Confirmation Delayed

The State Department spokesman, Charles W. Bray 3d, refused yesterday to confirm or deny that the agreements had been reached.

But it was explained later at the State Department that this was because the two governments had planned a joint announcement in the near future and the premature publication of reports on the accords had forced consultations for the rewording of the proposed statement.

Another agreement, establishing a new satellite hotline to insure instantaneous communications, has also been concluded, Washington sources report.

American officials said that discussions concerning the pact on nuclear accidents began in the plenary sessions of the SALT talks during the fourth round in Vienna early this year.

The negotiations were accelerated after a speech on foreign policy delivered by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the general secretary of the Soviet Communist party, during the party's 24th congress in Moscow on March 31.

Brezhnev Proposal

"We believe it would be expedient to work out measures to reduce the possibility of the accidental occurrence or premeditated fabrication of military incidents and their development into international crises and war," Mr. Brezhnev said.

Although Mr. Brezhnev did not use the word "nuclear," the United States interpreted his

Thant Expects UN to Offer A Seat to Peking Next Month

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant expressed the belief today that Communist China would be invited to take a seat in the United Nations next month.

He said at a news conference, however, that he was convinced that Peking's rejection of any two-China, or "dual representation," plan was a "firm statement of policy."

This was a reference to declarations that Peking would not enter the UN if the Chinese Nationalists were permitted to remain in any capacity.

"I'll be the happiest person if this question is solved this year," Mr. Thant said.

Aware of Mao's Thought

Mr. Thant did not refer specifically to the U.S. plan to seat Communist China while keeping Taiwan in the UN, but said he was aware of Peking's thinking "although I have had no contact with Peking, direct or indirect."

Asked for his assessment of President Nixon's coming visit to China, Mr. Thant said:

"My personal feeling is that such a visit would be very useful not only in establishing relations between two great countries but also in finding solutions to outstanding problems."

Mr. Thant also predicted that the divided countries—East and West Germany, North and South Korea and North and South Vietnam—would be admitted to the UN next year.

Hails Viet Cong Plan

Turning to the Vietnam war, he said he saw reason for encouragement in the seven-point peace plan submitted July 1 by the Viet Cong representative at the Paris peace talks. Mr. Thant expressed the belief these proposals "can serve as a basis for negotiations" and saw in them "the best opportunity so far for breaking the deadlock."

He made the following points on other questions:

- He would not remain as secretary-general "under any circumstances," even for a limited period. He said he believed a successor would be agreed upon before his term expires Dec. 31.

Manson Starts Fire; Privileges Revoked

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14 (UPI)—Charles Manson's jail privileges were revoked for ten days yesterday because he set fire to the bedding in his cell at the Hall of Justice.

A sheriff's department spokesman said that Manson set fire to blankets and a towel before going to court in the morning.

Floods Drown 9 In the Suburbs Of Philadelphia

CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 14 (UPI)—Thousands of people fled from their homes today as flash floods caused by four days of rain moved through the suburbs of Philadelphia.

The police said at least nine persons had been drowned.

Navy and Marine Corps reserves were called out to evacuate about 500 families and help stop looting in the downtown section of this city of 56,000. Waters spilling off the swollen Delaware River lapped at second-story windows in the area.
